

Q. What are the different theory of punishment among them which theory do you consider to be a reliable to you and why?

Q. What are the different theory of punishment among them which theory do you consider to be a reliable to you and why?

B.A = III
PHILOSOPHY (51)

Ans - The different theories of punishment are: 1. Retribution, 2. Deterrence, 3. Rehabilitation, 4. Incapacitation, 5. Restorative Justice. Retribution is the most common theory of punishment. It is based on the idea of 'an eye for an eye'. Deterrence is based on the idea of preventing crime by making the punishment severe enough to discourage people from committing the crime. Rehabilitation is based on the idea of helping the offender to become a better person. Incapacitation is based on the idea of removing the offender from society to prevent them from committing further crimes. Restorative Justice is based on the idea of repairing the harm done by the offender to the victim and the community.

is common to the one system as well, as well as the other as well.

What are the main theories of punishment? — The main theories of punishment are retributive, deterrent, reformative, and rehabilitative.

(i) Retributive theory (Theory of punishment) — This theory is based on the principle of 'an eye for an eye'.

(ii) Deterrent theory (Theory of punishment) — This theory is based on the principle of 'fear'.

(iii) Reformative theory (Theory of punishment) — This theory is based on the principle of 'education'.

(iv) Rehabilitative theory (Theory of punishment) — This theory is based on the principle of 'treatment'.

What are the main theories of punishment? — The main theories of punishment are retributive, deterrent, reformative, and rehabilitative.

(i) Retributive theory (Theory of punishment) — This theory is based on the principle of 'an eye for an eye'.

(ii) Deterrent theory (Theory of punishment) — This theory is based on the principle of 'fear'.

(iii) Reformative theory (Theory of punishment) — This theory is based on the principle of 'education'.

(iv) Rehabilitative theory (Theory of punishment) — This theory is based on the principle of 'treatment'.

What are the main theories of punishment? — The main theories of punishment are retributive, deterrent, reformative, and rehabilitative.

(i) Retributive theory (Theory of punishment) — This theory is based on the principle of 'an eye for an eye'.

(ii) Deterrent theory (Theory of punishment) — This theory is based on the principle of 'fear'.

